COL. DANIEL W. CLARK TO EDIT KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN

We are glad to read in the daily press that Col. Daniel W. Clark, who established the Mountain Advocate several years ago, is to have charge of and edit the Kentucky Republican, Frankfort, Ky., the new, redhot Republican newspaper published there since the Republican Administration took charge. We call him Colonel because he is a real Kentucky Colonel, on the staff of Gov. Morrow and has his commission. Col. Clark is well known to everyone in Barbourville and Knox County where he resided for many years, and quite as well known throughout the State for he was the Republican nominee for Commissioner of Agriculture on the O'Rear ticket in 1911. For about two years Col. Clark has been in the Federal Government service at Washington and has made good, retiring voluntarily after several promotions in the service.

He will devote his entire time to making the Kentucky Republican a bigger and better newspaper and help to keep the old State—his first love—in the Republican column.

CAMPING OUT PARTY

A number of our younger fellows spent a week camping out down the river, returning home Sunday. Each was given a particular job according to the talent which he was found to have in stock, as follows:

Bill Maiden, musician; Roy Miller, song artist; Bill Hughes, movie cliff leaper; Roy Cooper, fish supply man; Malcolm Cooper, western movie stuntman; Ben Dishman, classic rope expert; Carl Weaver, chef a la Astoria; Roy Perry, boxing belt holder; Charley Bowman, timekeeper.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. R. N. Jarvis gave a lovely birthday dinner party in honor of Mr. A. M. Blue, Jr., Tuesday evening. Mr. Blue was pleasantly surprised to find his place covered with numerous packages of various sizes, which, when opened, caused much merriment. Those present were: Miss Emelyn Sampson, Miss Ruby Putnam, Mrs. M. E. Bretz Mrs. R. N. Jarvis, Mr. A. M. Blue, Jr., Mr. Tom Spratt, Mr. R. N. Jarvis.

LUNCHEON

Mrs. F. D. Sampson entertained at luncheon in her apartment in the Parker Building last Friday in honor of Miss Ruth Carrier, of Lancaster, Ky., who was the guest of Miss Jewel Tye. The table was beautifully decorated and places were laid for twelve. A delightful four course luncheon was served. The guests were:

Mesdames R. H. Newitt, Read P. Black, Charles F. Rathfon, C. P. Kennedy, George F. Tinsley, W. R. Hughes, M. L. Snavely, Misses Jewel Tye, Ruth Carrier, Ruby Putnam, Roberta Cole, Mrs. R. N. Jarvis and Mrs. G. L. Dickinson.

BOOZE IN BARBOURVILLE

Monday night was inebriate night in Barbourville, a number of our citizens being seen on the streets badly under the influence of liquor. It should be investigated and the source of supply brought to light. One of our citizens was recently returning home from Corbin late and his car was stopped by a bootlegger who offered him liquor. This information is offered for the benefit of the officers of the county. It would seem that such data should be sent to the office of the Federal officials that the bootleggers might be caught. If it goes on on one road it is probably going on on others also.

The damnable stuff is ruining the happiness of families and those who sell it are bringing this about for a few filthy pieces of silver.

On Monday night a shot was fired near the center of town, it is believed by one of those under the influence of liquor.

The end of such affairs is too often lamentable. Sorrow and disgrace follow and beyond all this, is the fact that the law is not being enforced. Where law fails, contempt of law takes its place—then anarchy

Every drunken citizen should be made to tell where he got the liquor and the bootlegger should be arrested and sent up. It is idle to plaster on a small fine and let the parties who make the stuff get away with their law breaking.

OLD HICKORY LOSES

Last week's game between Old Hickory and Norton, Va., was a good one and but for errors, due to lack of practice, would have been won by Old Hickory. Tye's pitching was flawless, but notwithstanding this Norton won 5 to 2.

Keep away from temptation.

GOV. MORROW WRITES

EDWIN P. MORROW

The crisis in our schools is nothing short of a national menace. Universal education is fundamental in a democracy. In the days of kings, if the sovereign had wisdom, the government was safe; but with us, the people are sovereign, what they think determines every issue of whatever nature. Unless they be well-trained, and well-instructed, and well-informed; unless they know how to value and to appreciate American institutions and American ideals, democracy will have difficulty in enduring. The defenses of our Commonwealth, the defenses of our nation are not material, but mental and spiritual. Our first lines of defense are our public schools. Our fortifications and our soldiery can repel an invasion of armies from our shores; our greater menace, an invasion of ideas, can be repelled alone in the school room. The form of reconstruction, of which our people are in most serious need, is a reconstruction of their thoughts and of their ideals.

Kentucky is experiencing a wonderful educational revival. We have come to understand that our schools must be preserved and improved at whatever cost. The opportunities of the child living in the country must be made equal to the opportunities of the child living in the city; all the children of all the people in all the state must be given an equal chance. The teachers, whose unselfish devotion to duty has caused them to remain loyal to their task even at personal sacrifice, must be given adequate compensation. Better paid teachers will mean better prepared teachers; better prepared teachers will mean better taught children; better taught children will mean better citizenship. Our last General Assembly gave us a constructive and comprehensive program of school legislation. But laws do not enforce themselves; they are but lifeless things until public sentiment has breathed into their nostrils the breath of life. In the name of Kentucky's childhood, Kentucky's surest hope; in the name of patriotism, whose shrine is the public school, I urge the people of our Commonwealth to a generous support of, and a genuine interest in, our public schools. Education is an investment; Kentucky's greatest tax is ignorance.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING

The members of the Civic League gathered at the home of Mrs. L. L. Richardson on Thursday, Aug. 5th.

The usual routine business was attended to. A committee was appointed to assist and if necessary, to accompany Dr. Albright in trying to get dirty places cleaned up and kept clean. It does indeed seem strange that even the disapprobation of the whole community has no effect on some citizens unless they can see an immediate financial gain, not being far sighted enough to understand that a clean healthful town is in itself a good business investment. If the League can be of service to Dr. Albright they are always ready.

The invitation from the club women of Pineville to attend a musical in that city was read and accepted.

Tuesday, Aug. 10th, at 8 p. m. was set as the time when Gov. J. D. Black will address the women of Barbourville at the invitation of the

JONES

The heart of the entire community went out in deep sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jones Friday, July 30th, when it was learned that little Ellen Marie had been taken away.

The child had endeared herself to many by her winsomeness and baby charm.

Ellen Marie was born September 10, 1918, and died July 30, 1920.

The funeral was held at the family residence Sunday, August 1, at 2:30 p. m., Rev. R. L. Creal, of the Baptist Church conducting the funeral service in the absence of Rev. A. H. Davis, the family pastor. Interment was in the City Cemetery. Boone Smith, Morris Black, Wm. Amis, Jr., and Jack Wilson were the pallbearers.

We can but point to the sublime figure of him who said "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not; for of such is the Kingdom of God." "And He took them up in His arms and blessed them." Her sweet spirit is a golden link between those who loved her here and the God who loves her there.

HICKORY MILL CHIPS

Roy Hale and his bride have set up housekeeping on College Street at the residence of Rev. W. B. Minton. Roy is an efficient lathe man and we like to have him with us. He is one of the men that can stand up and say he knows how to do something.

Louis Schroeder returned Monday from a two weeks vacation spent in Louisville, St. Louis, Mo., and Tell City, Ind. He reports a fine time.

Elsie Carr spent Sunday in the country with Mary Fee.

Mr. Tomlinson enjoys eating apples in the golf shed.

R. B. Minton spent a day in Pineville on business.

Richard McCully, recently with the Littlejohn Carnival is back on his old job at the Hickory Mill.

George Ryder is trying a round at the Hickory Mill and says he finds the sun pretty hot sometimes.

Schroeder and Edwards explained to a large crowd the other day that the reason they are baldheaded is because their hair has come out.

Mrs. T. W. Minton returned from Cincinnati Wednesday morning.

The two Duplex trucks are just the thing for hauling logs these days. Jackson and Martin are making them earn their gasoline.

"L. C." White is very proud of his initials just now and says he doesn't want a new car.

N. C. Robbs is teaching the saddle horse "Gladys" how to pass a train and behave herself. She wants to have her own way occasionally but Robbs knows how to teach her to walk the chalk line.

"T. W." has 14 hens at the Hickory Mill and vows he found 23 eggs one day. He is like Jeff and gathers them once a week.

W. W. Evans is spending a few days in Harlan on business.

An odious fault is that of trying to avoid responsibility.

BARBOURVILLE NEEDS A LAUNDRY

Barbourville citizens are naturally cleanly and believe in the doctrine that cleanliness is next to godliness. But the trouble is that the washtubbing is an art which does not appeal to most ladies (and fewer men) who can afford to have the laundry do the work. As Barbourville is favorably situated to do the work from along the C. & M. and from many adjacent mines and can depend on good home patronage there is no reason why we should not now have a first class laundry, except that no one has had the enterprise to put one in. Let's get busy and form a laundry company. What say?

REV. R. L. CREAL RESIGNS

It will be with genuine regret that our people will learn that Rev. R. L. Creal of the Baptist Church has resigned his pastorate to take up educational work, even tho that work will take him into an enlarged field of usefulness.

Dr. Creal has been chosen Assistant Superintendent of the Mountain School System of Southern Baptist Convention. Dr. A. E. Brown, who has been so long identified with the work, will continue as Superintendent, and Dr. Creal will have charge of the active field work, visiting the schools and supplying teachers. His headquarters will be at Ashville, N. C. The loss of Dr. Creal will be accentuated in the further loss of Mrs. Creal, who has also won a place in the hearts of our people. The date set for their departure is August 16.

The farewell service will be held at the Baptist Church August 15 and should be made a community service out of compliment to one of the really broad gauge men of our City.

AEROPLANE SMASHED

While making an ascent recently, the airplane of the Barbourville Aero Co. came to grief. In the descent something apparently went wrong as before it got up very high it began to settle back to the ground and unfortunately struck against a fence, severely damaging the lower planes and body.

This plane will probably be in commission again in a few weeks.

The management is naturally disappointed over its inability to immediately do business, but the company will shortly have one or more planes here so the delay will be only a matter of a few days.

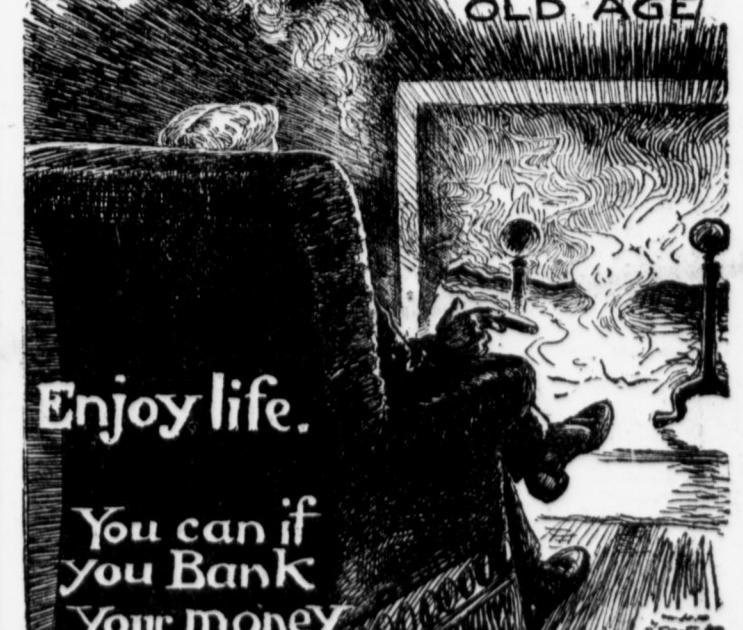

CARD OF THANKS

We beg most sincerely, to thank our friends and neighbors for the expression of their sympathy and loving kindness during the illness, death and burial of our beloved little daughter, Ellen Marie. It is only when sorrow encompasses one that the solace of such sympathy and love is appreciated.

SOME PRODUCTION

Demon mathematicians who have spent time trying to estimate the age of Ann or to determine why a chicken crossed a street, can take off their tortoise rimmed specs and rub their beetling brows in astonishment over the annual production figures of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company.

Last year 45,000,000 pounds of cotton fabric were used for various products, while in the same period 108,000,000 pounds of rubber were manufactured into products for use all over the world.

Here's where the statisticians became dizzy.

If the total amount of rubber used in 1919 was transported at one time the train of 689 freight cars needed would stretch for a distance of seven miles. It would be the annual production of 20,000,000 rubber trees, which would cover 208,000 acres of ground.

To store this vast amount of rubber—equal to 39 days supply for the entire world—6,000,000 cubic feet of floor space would be required.

This mountain of crude rubber would suffice for the manufacture of approximately 9,000,000 tires.

Every working day six miles of belting, six tons of packing and eleven miles of hose are turned out by 35,000 employees in addition to 45,000 automobile tires.

Four million pairs of rubber soles for shoes are made every 12 months and more than 30,000,000 pairs of rubber heels are turned out in the same period. —Goodyear News Service.

HARDING SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE A NEW KEYNOTE

Republican Nominee at Notification Ceremonies Discusses Problems Confronting Nation.

"HOLD HERITAGE AMERICAN NATIONALITY UNIMPAIRED"

Advocates Party Responsibility as Distinguished From Dictatorial and Autocratic Personal Rule—in Referring to League of Nations, Says We Do Not Mean to Shun a Single Responsibility of This Republic to World Civilization—Favors Protective Tariff, Merchant Marine, a Small Army, Woman Suffrage and National Budget.

Marion, O.—(Special)—Warren G. Harding was officially notified here of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the presidency. His speech of acceptance is, in part, as follows:

Chairman Lodge, members of Notification Committee, members of National Committee, ladies and gentlemen: The message which you have formally conveyed brings to me a realization of responsibility which is not underestimated.

It is a supreme task to interpret the covenant of great political party, the activities of which are so woven into the history of this republic, and a very sacred and solemn undertaking to utter the faith and aspirations of the many millions who adhere to that party. The party platform has charted the way, yet, somehow, we have come to expect that interpretation which voices the faith of nominees who must assume specific tasks.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party sponsorship in government. I believe that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world.

It is folly to close our eyes to outstanding facts. Humanity is restive, much of the world is in revolution, the agents of discord and destruction have wrought their tragedy in pathetic Russia, have lighted their torches among other peoples, and hope to see America as a part of the great Red conflagration. Ours is the temple of liberty under the law, and it is ours to call the Sons of Opportunity to its defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to sober the world.

It must be understood that toll alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toll, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the world war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our storehouses empty, and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, not minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because war never fails to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages, and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide, on one explicit condition—that the wage-earner will give full return for the wage received.

Production, More Production.

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer, to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production, because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of commission, under-production is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best, else the destructive reaction will come.

The menacing tendency of the present day is not chargeable wholly to the unsettled and fevered conditions caused by the war. The manifest weakness in popular government lies in the temptation to appeal to grouped citizenship for political advantage.

It would be the blindness of folly to ignore the activities in our own country which are aimed to destroy our economic system, and to commit us to the colossal tragedy which has destroyed all freedom and made Russia impotent. This movement is not to be baited in throttled liberties. We must not abridge the freedom of speech, the freedom of press, or the freedom of assembly, because there is no room for repression. These liberties are as sacred as the freedom of religious belief, as inviolable as the rights of life and the pursuit of happiness. We do hold to the right to crush sedition, to stifle a menacing contempt for law to stamp out a peril to the safety of the republic or its people, when emergency calls, because security and the majesty of the law are the first essentials of liberty. He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flouts his contempt for law and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic.

No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage-earner. To us his good fortune is of deepest concern, and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining, because mean to defend, aye, we mean to sustain the rights of this nation and our citizens alike, everywhere under the shining sun. Yet there is the concord of amity and sympathy and fraternity in every resolution. There is a genuine aspiration in every American breast for a tranquil friendship with all the world.

One may readily sense the conscience of our America. I am sure I understand the purpose of the dominant group of the senate. We were not seeking to defeat a world aspiration, we were resolved to safeguard America. We were resolved then, even as we are today, and will be tomorrow, to preserve this free and independent republic.

In the call of the conscience of America is peace, peace that closes the gaping wound of world war, and silences the impassioned voices of international envy and distrust. Hearing this call and knowing as I do the disposition of the Congress, I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign.

It is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization, with the covenant of conscience, than be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world. No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandatory however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right we will not delegate.

Leaving America Independent.

Disposed as we are, the way is very simple. Let the failure attending assumption, obstinacy, impracticability and delay be recognized, and let us find the big, practical, unselfish way to do our part, neither covetous because of ambition nor hesitant through fear, but ready to serve ourselves, humanity and God. With a sensible advising as the constitution contemplates, I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world.

It is folly to close our eyes to outstanding facts. Humanity is restive, much of the world is in revolution, the agents of discord and destruction have wrought their tragedy in pathetic Russia, have lighted their torches among other peoples, and hope to see America as a part of the great Red conflagration. Ours is the temple of liberty under the law, and it is ours to call the Sons of Opportunity to its defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to sober the world.

It must be understood that toll alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toll, and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the world war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our storehouses empty, and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums, not minimums, is the call of America. It isn't a new story, because war never fails to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. Profiteering is a crime of commission, under-production is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best, else the destructive reaction will come.

He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flouts his contempt for law and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic.

No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage-earner. To us his good fortune is of deepest concern, and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining, because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual, in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. Any American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another, and none shall be allowed to forget that the government's obligations are alike to all the people.

No Strike Against Government.

We are so confident that much of the present-day insufficiency and inefficiency of transportation are due to the withering hand of government operation that we emphasize anew our opposition to government ownership, we want to expedite the reparation and make sure the mistake is not repeated.

A state of inadequate transportation facilities, mainly chargeable to the failure of governmental experiment, is losing millions to agriculture. It is hindering industry, it is menacing the American people with a fuel shortage little less than a peril. It emphasizes the present-day problem and suggests that spirit of encouragement and assistance which commits all America to relieve such an emergency.

Gross expansion of currency and credit have depreciated the dollar just as expansion and inflation have depreciated the coins of the world. We inflated in haste, we must deflate in deliberation. We debased the dollar in reckless finance, we must restore in honesty.

In all sincerity we promise the prevention of unreasonable profits, we challenge profiteering with all the moral force and the legal powers of government and people, but it is fair, ay, it is timely, to give reminder that law is not the sole corrective of our economic ills.

Drive Against Extravagance.

Let us call to all the people for thrift and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be, for a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommitment to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic.

New conditions, which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development, call for a new and forward-looking program. The American farmer had a hundred and twenty millions to feed in the home market, and heard the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task amid handicaps never encountered before.

Contemplating the defenselessness of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold that farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in co-operative association to reap the just measure of reward merited by their arduous toil.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will half that co-operation which again will make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated, and which will facilitate the curing for the products of farm and orchard without the calamitous waste under present conditions.

America would look with anxiety on the discouragement of farming activity either through the government's neglect or its paralysis by socialist practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renewed regard for agriculture, and seek the participation of farmers in curing the ills justly complained of, and aim to place the American farm where it ought to be—highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Production, More Production.

I believe there is an easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico. It has seemed to me that our undeveloped, uncertain and infirm policy has made us a culpable party to the governmental misfortunes in that land. Our relations ought to be both friendly and sympathetic; we would like to proclaim a stable government there, and offer a neighborly hand in pointing the way to greater progress.

I believe in law enforcement. If elected I mean to be a constitutional president, and it is impossible to ignore the constitution, unthinkable to evade the law, when our every commitment is to orderly government.

The four million defenders on land and sea were worthy of the best traditions of a people never warlike in peace and never pacifist in war. They commanded our pride, they have our gratitude, which must have genuine expression. It is not only a duty, it is a privilege to see that the sacrifices made shall be requited, and that those still suffering from casualties and disabilities shall be abundantly aided and restored to the highest capabilities of citizenship and its enjoyment.

"For all these years I had suffered from stomach trouble and indigestion. My appetite had never been very good. It was seldom, if ever I could find anything to eat that did not hurt me, and there were some things such as pork or any kind of vegetables, I could not eat at all. After every meal my food would lie undigested and feel as heavy as a rock in my stomach. I gradually grew worse until when I started taking Tanlac I was in a run-down and weakened condition."

"It certainly was a lucky day for me when I began taking Tanlac, for it has entirely relieved me of troubles that had followed me for thirty years," said B. H. Cheser, 1708 Indiana Ave., Louisville, Ky.

HE FEELS TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER

"It Was A Lucky Day For Me When I Began Taking Tanlac," Says B. H. Cheser.

"It certainly was a lucky day for me when I began taking Tanlac, for it has entirely relieved me of troubles that had followed me for thirty years," said B. H. Cheser, 1708 Indiana Ave., Louisville, Ky.

It was seldom, if ever I could find anything to eat that did not hurt me, and there were some things such as pork or any kind of vegetables, I could not eat at all. After every meal my food would lie undigested and feel as heavy as a rock in my stomach. I gradually grew worse until when I started taking Tanlac I was in a run-down and weakened condition."

Five Minute Chats on Our Presidents

FEN OF THE REVOLUTION

1743—April 13, born at Shadwell, Va.
1767—Admitted to the bar.
1769-74—Member of House of Burgesses.
1774-76—Member of congress.
1776-79—Member Virginia assembly.
1779-81—Governor.
1783-84—Member of congress.
1784-89—Minister to France.
1790-93—Secretary of state.

THOMAS JEFFERSON as much as Abraham Lincoln, was nursed at the breast of the unexhausted West.

At the time of his birth beneath one of its foothills the Blue Ridge of Virginia was the American frontier. The farm on which he was born had been cleared in the wild forest by his pioneer father when the smoke of a neighbor's chimney hardly could be seen from his cabin door.

When he rode east, with his darling fiddle under his arm, to be a student at William and Mary college, the tall slender, sandy-haired, snub-nosed, freckled-faced seventeen-year-old boy of the frontiersman never had seen a mansion, a church or a village of twenty houses, and he looked with a stranger's eyes upon the baronial pride and display of the old families who formed the viceregal court at Williamsburg.

To support the large family of his mother on their too small farm Jefferson turned to the law. In seven years at the bar he doubled his estate and increased his slaves to 400. Buying the little mountain at whose feet he was born, he built upon its summit from plans of his own drawing, with bricks of his own making and with wood of his own cutting, the noblest house in all Virginia. There at Monticello he made his home ever after.

Jefferson's law practice continued rapidly to grow until it amounted to $2,500 a year, when he abandoned it forever to prosecute George III in the great and general court of mankind. He had heard the first call of the Revolution while a law student in Williamsburg. Its clarion had been ringing in his ears ever since he stood, an eager looker-on, in the door of the house of burgesses. He saw Washington in his seat and he saw his own friend, Patrick Henry, a fiddling Virginian like himself, holding the floor amid cries of treason as he invited the king to profit by the example of Caesar, who had his Brutus, and Charles I, who had his Cromwell.

The sword, the tongue and the pen of American freedom were well met that memorable day. After the pen had waited twelve years for its turn to speak Jefferson sat in the congress at Philadelphia. The squire of Monticello was a silent member, as silent as the squire of Mount Vernon. Opportunity and duty went straight to those two speechless congressmen as the needle leaps to a lodestone.

After serving as governor of Virginia and member of congress Jefferson was sent as minister to the court of France. "You replace Doctor Franklin," the Count Vergennes said to him on his arrival in Paris. "I succeed him," the new envoy happily replied; "no one can replace Doctor Franklin."

Six weeks and a day after he had seen that old France of the Bourbons crash beneath the walls of the Bastille Jefferson left Paris to become our first secretary of state. Taking his seat at the right of Washington he was face to face across the cabinet table with Alexander Hamilton, the secretary of the treasury.

By nature and training the two were as opposite in their political opinions as in their chairs, and they found themselves, as Jefferson said, "pitted like fighting cocks." As they fought and the feathers flew a great crowd collected behind each to urge on its favorite in that cocking main over which Washington had the unhappiness to preside. Quickly all the people in the land took one side or the other and formed themselves into the two political parties which with changing names and changing disputes have divided the country to this day.

The women of the City are invited to attend these two lectures in order to become better acquainted with the leading features of the two great political parties. Women, as voters, are urged not to start another party but to become identified with one of those already organized if possible and for this reason the Civic League considers it a privilege to be instructed by two men as prominent in their parties as Gov. Black and Congressman Robison who will deliver these instructive talks which will not be in the form of a debate—just a statement of party principles.

IN YE OLDEN TIME

Hoop skirts were worn by those who first asked the druggist for, and insisted on having, the genuine Golden Medical Discovery put up by Dr. Pierce over fifty years ago. Dress has changed very much since then! But Dr. Pierce's medicines contain the same dependable ingredients. They are standard today just as they were fifty years ago.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach and blood cannot be surpassed by any remedy today.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women has never been equalled for the distressing complaints incident to womanhood. What others say:

COVINGTON, KY.—"I have taken five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and am proud of my good health. However the proper bait must be used as the trap does not jump after the flies. The Sanitary Grocery is trying to live up to its name and has a trap doing good service; G. Tye has two in his livery barn which will be a relief to the horses; M. G. Hignite has one at his home to catch the flies before they get to his new son or the cows; and others have recently added this most necessary equipment. When the real fly season in the fall comes we shall notice the difference.

AMERICAN LEGION DEPARTMENT OF KENTUCKY

Call For Second State Convention

In conformity with the decision of the first State Convention, the second State Convention of the American Legion will be held at Louisville September 3d and 4th, 1920.

Purpose.—The Convention is called for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, electing and instructing delegates to National Convention, the election of National and State Executive Committeemen and for the transaction of such other business as may properly be brought before the Convention. Specific questions and matters to be discussed are set out in detail herein.

Representation.—Representation in the Convention shall be by post. Each post shall be entitled to one delegate and to one additional delegate for each one hundred members whose State and National dues have been paid by the post according to the records of the Department Adjutant at the close of business August 3, 1920.

All posts to which official recognition has been extended prior to the date of the Convention shall be entitled to representation in the Convention.

The voting strength of each post shall be equivalent to the aggregate number of delegates to which such post is entitled.

Alternates.—Each post is entitled to send to, and to seat in the Convention a number of alternates equal to the number of delegates to which the post is entitled.

Alternates will have power to vote only in the absence of the regular delegates.

State Executive Committee—The term of office of the present State Executive Committee will expire with the adjournment of the State Convention. The term of office of the new State Executive Committee will commence immediately thereafter. The members of the new committee will be elected according to the provisions of the State Constitution by the delegates from the various districts.

Election of Delegates—Delegates shall be chosen at post meetings to be held not later than August 10th, 1920. Notification of such meetings should be sent to all members.

Each post must notify State Headquarters, not later than August 15, of the result of such elections giving the names and addresses of the delegates and alternates selected.

Instructions—At the meeting for the election of delegates the posts should instruct the delegates on the following matters:

First:—Adjusted Compensation, known as the bonus. Does your post favor the Legion Beneficial Legislation including the Adjusted Compensation referred to as a cash bonus?

Second—Does your post favor the establishment of a State newspaper to be operated by the American Legion of Kentucky for the purpose of keeping up Liaison among the various posts, if such paper can be made self supporting.

Third—The American Legion finding sentiment of its members in favor of universal military training has gone on record nationally for peace time training of the nation's youth without obligation to serve in war time. It is believed that public apathy on this question may be overcome by discussion at coming State Convention.

Fourth—The present status of the prosecution of draft dodgers and the inadvisability of the Department of Kentucky urging more strenuous measures to apprehend and prosecute those alleged to have willfully evaded their military duties during the last war.

Fifth—Advisability of organizing district councils of the posts and other changes in the constitution for more effective organization.

Sixth—The perfection of plans for a permanent Americanism commission for the State of Kentucky to work in conjunction with the National Commission.

Reduced Rates on Railroads—Reduced rates on railroads from all points in the State of Kentucky have been requested on the identification certificate plan.

Every post in the State of Kentucky should send at least one delegate and he should be so instructed that he will be able intelligently to cast the vote of his post on all matters before the Convention.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

Albert Spalding himself recently took part in a test of the New Edison's Realism, at New York City. He played in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of his performance by the New Edison. Mr. Henry Hadley, one of the jury of the three distinguished musicians who listened from behind a screen, said: "The RE-CREATION matched Mr. Spalding's performance tone for tone."

The New Edison is the only phonograph which has given this conclusive proof of its perfect realism. It has triumphed in 4,000 such comparison-tests.

PRICES! HALT!

Since 1914, the total price increase in the New Edison has been less than 15%. Mr. Edison has probably absorbed more than one-half of the increased cost of manufacture. He may not be able to do this much longer. But need you wait to-day's price? Our Budget Plan will help you. It distributes the payment over the months to come.
